

The Board at its March 26, 2014 meeting:

- 1 Approved the confidential recommendations outlined in the confidential attachment; and
- 2 Noted that the confidential information provided in the confidential attachment remains confidential in its entirety as it contains information that is subject to solicitor-client privilege.